Other significant notices

Federal Budget 2013/14

On 14 May 2013 the then Treasurer, Mr Wayne Swan, delivered his sixth Federal Budget. Following are announcements that may impact on your investment in the Fund. We recommend you speak to your financial adviser about how these changes affect your investment.

Please note that unless otherwise stated, legislation may not yet have been passed. We strongly recommend that members check with their financial adviser before making any changes to their investment.

Higher concessional contributions cap

Legislation has been passed allowing a higher concessional contributions cap of $35,000 for people aged 60 or over with effect from 1 July 2013. Individuals aged 50 and over will be able to access the higher cap from 1 July 2014.

A fairer excess contributions tax system

Prior to the 2013/14 income year under the Excess Contribution Tax arrangements, concessional contributions in excess of the annual cap are taxed at the top marginal tax rate (46.5%) regardless of the individual's personal marginal tax rate. In addition, individuals are only able to withdraw up to 85% of any excess concessional contributions the first time they make an excess contribution after 1 July 2011, and only up to a maximum amount of $10,000.

With effect 1 July, 2013 excess concessional contributions will automatically be included in an individual's assessable income, and subject to an interest charge to account for the deferral of tax. The new laws ensure individuals who make excess concessional contributions are taxed on the contributions at their marginal tax rates, rather than at 46.5% tax for all taxpayers.

Additionally, individuals will be allowed to withdraw up to 85% of any excess concessional contributions from their superannuation fund.

Changes to the tax exemption for earnings on superannuation assets supporting retirement income streams

From 1 July 2014, future earnings on assets supporting income streams will be tax-free up to $100,000 a year for each individual. Earnings above the $100,000 threshold will be taxed at the same concessional rate of 15% that applies to earnings in the accumulation phase.

Under current arrangements, all earnings (such as dividends and interest) on assets supporting income streams (superannuation pensions and annuities) are tax-free. In contrast, earnings in the accumulation phase of superannuation are taxed at 15%.

Under this measure, the $100,000 threshold will be indexed to the Consumer Price Index and will increase in $10,000 increments. For assets that were purchased before 5 April 2013, the measure will only apply to capital gains that accrue after 1 July 2024. Capital gains that are subject to the tax will receive a 33% discount, and will therefore be effectively taxed at a rate of 10%.

Transfer of lost member accounts to the ATO

The Government announced the threshold below which small inactive accounts and the accounts of uncontactable members are required to be transferred to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) will be increased from $2,000 to $2,500 from 31 December 2015, and then to $3,000 from 31 December 2016.

Reduction of higher tax concession for contributions of very high income earners – minor amendments

The Government will make minor amendments to the 2012-13 Budget measure titled Superannuation – reduction of higher tax concession for contributions of very high income earners, effective from 1 July 2012.

These minor amendments involve:

- exempting from the measure employer contributions for Federal judges sitting on or after 1 July 2012 who are entitled to a benefit payable under the Judges' Pension Act 1968, and employer contributions made to constitutionally protected funds for State higher level office holders sitting on or after 1 July 2012 (to mitigate constitutional risks);
- using a similar definition of income for the measure to that used for calculating whether an individual is liable to pay the Medicare levy surcharge; and
- refunding former temporary residents the tax paid under the measure as they effectively do not receive any concessional tax treatment on their contributions to superannuation as a result of the operation of other rules.

Other announcements /changes to superannuation

Member protection repealed

The Government has passed legislation repealing Member Protection Standards with effect from 1 July 2013.

Prior to 1 July 2013 if at your policy anniversary the amount in your account was less than $1,000 and superannuation guarantee or award contributions had been made into the account by your employer, superannuation law limited the amount of charges that could be deducted from your account. Generally you could not be charged administration fees that exceeded your investment returns during that period.

To assist existing members with small balances Zurich has made a decision to continue providing member protection until 30 June 2014. The standard fees will then apply from that date

Intra-fund consolidation

Legislation for the intra-fund consolidation measure was introduced into parliament on 20 March 2013. Intra-fund consolidation can start anytime after 1 July 2013 with the first round of consolidation to be completed by 30 June 2014.

Intra-fund consolidation involves the merging of multiple accounts for the same member within the Fund, if this is in the member's best interest. When determining whether it is in the member's best interest, we must consider the possible savings in fees, charges and insurance premiums, as well as any other relevant factors.

Zurich expects the first round of intra-fund consolidation will take place before the end of 2013 and will notify you if we have identified accounts that will be consolidated.

Accrued default amounts

Recent changes made by the government to superannuation, under the 'Stronger Super' reforms, mean that if you did not select an investment strategy when commencing your plan or at any time after, your investments could be considered default amounts and may need to be transferred to a MySuper product.

What is a MySuper product?

MySuper is a no investment choice superannuation product designed as a basic default product for people who do not exercise choice in relation their super.

It is important to know that Zurich will not have a MySuper product and therefore your benefits would be transferred to another provider. This will mean that you will lose the benefits and features associated with your Zurich plan including any attached insurance benefits and the ability to choose from a range of investment options.

Further information on the Stronger Super reforms including information on MySuper and default amounts can be found on the government website at strongersuper.treasury.gov.au.

Please note that Zurich have identified clients who have not selected an investment strategy and have written to them seeking their further instructions. If you were a recipient of that letter but have not provided Zurich with your investment instructions, please contact the Zurich Client Service Centre on 131 551 as soon as possible.
