Who can make a claim?

You are entitled to make a claim if you sustain an injury in the course of your employment and are defined by law as a worker. The legal definition of a worker includes full-time, part-time, casual, seasonal, piece and commission workers. Working directors, contractors and sub-contractors may also be defined as workers depending on their working arrangements.

How to claim:

1. Seek first aid and report the injury to your employer.
2. See a doctor of your choice as soon as possible and get a medical certificate. This is known as a First Medical Certificate in the workers’ compensation system.
3. Fill out the inside pages of this form and give it and your First Medical Certificate to your employer.
4. Your employer must complete their part of the claim form and give it together with the First Medical Certificate to their insurer within 5 working days of receiving the claim form.
5. The insurer has 14 days to assess the claim and can:
   - Accept the claim
   - Dispute the claim
   - Pend the claim
6. Your workers’ compensation entitlements commence
7. No entitlements are paid – you can dispute this decision
8. No entitlements are paid – the insurer needs more time to make a decision

What happens if you don’t agree with the insurer’s decision?

Your employer’s insurer has an internal dispute resolution process. You can approach the insurer to re-examine their decision.

In addition, WorkCover WA provides assistance regarding resolving disputes.

To find out more about having a dispute resolved or for general information about workers’ compensation and injury management contact WorkCover WA’s Advisory Services on 1300 794 744.

How to make a claim with self-insurers

Some employers have been approved by WorkCover WA as self-insurers. This means that the employer covers the cost of its workers’ compensation claims.

The process for making a workers’ compensation claim is the same. However your employer has 17 days to assess your claim once they receive your completed claim form and First Medical Certificate.

You can ask your employer if they are a self-insurer. A list of self-insurers is available on the WorkCover WA website at www.workcover.wa.gov.au under Service Providers.

What happens when my claim is pended?

An insurer can pend your claim if they need more time or more information to make a decision. They may contact you during this time for more information about your claim.

While your claim is being assessed, consider using any accrued leave (sick leave or annual leave) to provide you with interim financial support. If your claim is accepted, any leave you have used will be reinstated by your employer.

If a decision has not been made within 19 days of you lodging your claim form and First Medical Certificate with your employer, you should contact Advisory Services on 1300 794 744 for more information.

WorkCover WA is the government agency responsible for overseeing the Workers’ Compensation and Injury Management Act 1981.
What does workers' compensation cover?

Once your claim is accepted you become entitled to workers’ compensation payments. These may include:

- wages that should be paid on your normal pay day for any time that your doctor has certified you unfit for work
- medical expenses for hospital, medical and allied (eg physiotherapy) health treatment referred by your doctor and approved by the insurer. Your medical expenses are covered only up to a workers’ compensation rate which is set by WorkCover WA. Be sure to check that your doctor charges this rate otherwise you may be left with a gap payment
- rehabilitation expenses to cover the cost of engaging an approved workplace rehabilitation provider to help your return to work
- travel and accommodation expenses in certain situations.

Contact WorkCover WA for publications about your rights, responsibilities and entitlements.

Wages, medical and rehabilitation payments are limited and subject to maximum amounts. You can call our Advisory Services staff on 1300 794 744 or visit www.workcover.wa.gov.au/Workers for further information.

While your claim is being assessed, you can ask your employer to pay you sick leave or annual leave you have already accrued. If your claim is accepted, you will receive your workers’ compensation entitlements and your employer will reinstate your leave. Remember you must have a medical certificate to cover any time you are away from work.

Know and understand your rights and responsibilities

You:

- have the right to choose your own treating doctor and workplace rehabilitation provider
- have the right to claim lost wages from other jobs if you have another job/s your injury prevents you doing
- have the responsibility to attend certain medical appointments at the request of your employer
- have the responsibility to fully participate in your return to work program once developed.

Your employer:

- has the right to request a medical review via their insurer before or after a claim has been accepted
- has the right to discuss your return to work with the treating doctor
- has the responsibility to have an injury management system in place and implement a return to work program when a doctor declares you fit for work in any capacity
- has the responsibility to keep your original position available for 12 months following a claim.

Together:

- you have the responsibility to work with your treating doctor in developing an appropriate return to work program.

Disclosure of Personal Information (consent authority)

Your employer’s insurance company needs to collect, use and disclose personal information to assess, investigate and otherwise deal with your claim. If you do not provide the information requested, this may affect the insurer’s ability to assess your claim. This may cause significant delays in the claims process.

By signing the consent authority on the Claim Form, you agree to the insurer:

a. collecting and using your personal information for the purpose of assessing, investigation and otherwise dealing with your current claim or any future claims.

b. disclosing personal information (on a confidential basis) to and collecting personal information from:

   - your employer, the insurer’s entities, its investigators, auditors, medical service providers or any other party providing services to the insurer or any agent of these
   - other insurers, insurance intermediaries, government regulators or insurance reference bureau
   - lawyers and law enforcement agencies.
Checklist and handy hints

For the Worker

☐ Complete the form with a ballpoint pen.
☐ If you need help completing the form, you can get your employer, a friend or family member to help you or you can call WorkCover WA on 1300 794 744. If required, an interpreter can also be arranged by WorkCover WA free of charge.
☐ The claim form is printed on carbonised paper which produces an exact copy on the sheet below it. Make sure you write on the centre sheets only and press firmly.
☐ Provide all the information requested. Give your full name, postal and email address and daytime contact phone number in case you need to be contacted.
☐ It may be helpful to attach a separate sheet to your claim form if more space is needed to provide information about your injury, how it happened and your medical history.
☐ Read and sign the worker's declaration and the consent authority (optional).
☐ Attach the First Medical Certificate you received from your doctor to this claim form (your claim cannot be processed until both your claim form and First Medical Certificate are received).
☐ Keep records! Take a photocopy of your claim form and keep a record of the date you gave the claim form and medical certificate to your employer.
☐ Tear off the information section of this form and keep for your future reference.

For the Employer

☐ Tear off the information section of this form and give it to the injured worker.
☐ Make sure the worker has completed all sections of the claim form. If they have difficulty completing it, let them know that they can seek help from you, or a family member or friend.
☐ Make sure you complete the employer details section.
☐ Review the First Medical Certificate. Has the doctor indicated that the worker has capacity to work in either their pre-injury job or in alternative duties? If so, you are required by law to develop a return to work program. Visit the WorkCover WA website www.workcover.wa.gov.au for further information and templates or contact your insurer for assistance.
☐ If the doctor has indicated that the worker will be off work for more than three days or can’t return to normal duties, they will be expecting you to contact them.
☐ Keep records! Develop a case file, photocopy all relevant paperwork and keep it in a safe and private location and date all correspondence.
☐ Forward this form to your insurer within five working days of receiving it. Make sure you attach:
  • the worker’s First Medical Certificate and any subsequent medical certificates
  • medical accounts (if any)
  • any other reports your insurer asks you to complete.
☐ If an injury is likely to prevent an employee from working for 10 consecutive days, you must also notify WorkSafe on (08) 9327 8800. A list of reportable injuries and diseases can be found at www.commerce.wa.gov.au/WorkSafe. There are also reporting requirements for all injuries in the mining sector, for more information visit www.dmp.wa.gov.au.

Injury Management

Injury management is about managing workers’ injuries in a manner that is directed at enabling injured workers to return to work.

Your employer should have a written description of an injury management system in your workplace and this should be made available to you if you ask for it.

You should be involved with decisions regarding your return to work.

It is important for you to:

- keep in touch with your employer, your doctor and other treatment providers
- submit medical certificates to your employer as soon as possible and on a regular basis to help keep your employer informed of your medical condition and level of fitness for work.

If your treating medical practitioner finds that you are partially fit to return to work in some capacity, a written return to work program will be established by your employer.

Workers should fully participate with their employer and medical practitioner in developing an appropriate return to work program. This will help develop a supportive environment that has the commitment of all parties to a successful return to work process. You have the responsibility to actively participate in your return to work program once developed.

Make sure you have a say in determining your future at work by being involved in discussions that affect you.

Publications for workers, employers and insurers are available from WorkCover WA.
