Dated 24th October 2005
The insurance in this Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) is offered by Macquarie Life Limited ABN 56 003 963 773 AFSL 237 497 (Macquarie Life), exclusively to members of Macquarie SuperOptions Super Plan, Macquarie Super Accumulator and Macquarie Super Manager, referred to collectively as Macquarie Superannuation. Macquarie Super Protector is not available to anyone who is not a member of Macquarie Superannuation.

Macquarie Super Protector is offered under a group insurance policy (policy) issued by Macquarie Life to Macquarie Investment Management Limited ABN 66 002 867 003 AFSL 237 492 (MIML). MIML holds the policy as trustee for each of the Macquarie Superannuation products. If requested by a Macquarie Superannuation member, MIML will apply for cover under the policy for the member, but the availability of insurance depends upon acceptance by Macquarie Life. Any claims made by a member under the policy must be made through MIML as the policy owner. Payment of a claim is conditional upon Macquarie Life accepting the claim and paying the benefit to MIML, and MIML being able to pay the benefit under the terms of the applicable Macquarie Superannuation product and superannuation laws.

Macquarie Life prepared this PDS, which is addressed to MIML as trustee of the Macquarie Superannuation funds and Macquarie Superannuation members. In this PDS references to “we” and “us” mean Macquarie Life.

The importance of insurance

By choosing to invest in Macquarie Superannuation you have recognised the importance of saving for a financially secure future. Life insurance allows you to ensure that you and your family are looked after in the event of the unexpected.

That is why Macquarie Life has developed a range of insurance covers called Macquarie Super Protector that enables members of Macquarie Superannuation to safeguard against the often unexpected short and long-term impacts caused by disablement or death.

This document covers these products:

■ Death cover
■ Total and Permanent Disablement cover
■ Income Protection cover

When reading this PDS please note that some expressions (shown in italics) have a special meaning. This meaning is either explained in context or in the Glossary on page 10.

Features at a glance

The table below shows a summary of the features and benefits available through Macquarie Super Protector. For full details about each cover please refer to the product sections contained in this PDS.

Death cover

Paid as a lump sum, this cover can ensure that your family remains financially secure even if you die prematurely. The proceeds from Death cover can be used by your dependants for a variety of purposes, such as:

■ clearing debts, eg. mortgage, credit cards, personal and car loans;
■ investing to provide a replacement income stream;
■ covering general living and lifestyle expenses;
■ covering childcare expenses.

Who can apply?

As a member of Macquarie Superannuation, you can apply for Death cover between the ages of 16 and 64, and cover can continue, generally, up until the anniversary of the cover start date immediately prior to your 70th birthday. Applications are made on your behalf by Macquarie Investment Management Limited (MIML), the trustee of Macquarie Superannuation. Applications for cover (and any increases in cover) are subject to acceptance by Macquarie Life.

What amount is payable?

With Death cover you apply for an amount of insurance that will be paid upon your death in addition to the accumulated balance of your Macquarie Superannuation account. You can apply to increase your cover at any time by completing an application form and providing any additional information requested by Macquarie Life. You can decrease your level of cover at any time by notifying MIML (or Macquarie Life on behalf of MIML) in writing. If you are also covered for total and permanent disablement (TPD) then, if your TPD cover is attached to your Death cover, your Death cover will reduce by the amount of any TPD benefit payable.

Protection against inflation
To minimise the effects of inflation on the value of your cover, we will automatically increase your insured benefit amount each year, until your cover stops, on your cover anniversary in line with increases in the Consumer Price Index (CPI), subject to a maximum of 10% each year. If you do not want to receive this automatic increase you should write to us prior to your cover anniversary.

When will we pay?
We will pay the insured benefit amount to MIML if you die while covered for the death benefit under the policy. MIML will then be able to distribute the proceeds along with your account balance, subject to the rules of Macquarie Superannuation and superannuation laws. Usually this would be to your estate unless you have specific nominations as provided within Macquarie Superannuation.

The rules of Macquarie Superannuation may contain conditions which need to be satisfied in order for the proceeds of your claim to be distributed.

When won’t we pay?
We will not pay a benefit if your death was caused directly or indirectly by an intentional self-inflicted act within 13 months of:
- the cover start date;
- any increase in cover, but only in respect of that increase; and
- any reinstatement of cover.

Macquarie Life may, when lawfully entitled to do so, avoid or adjust your benefit if you have breached your duty of disclosure or have made a misrepresentation when applying for cover or an increase in cover.

When does the cover start?
Your Death cover starts from the cover start date shown in the certificate of insurance issued as confirmation that your cover has been accepted by Macquarie Life.

When does the cover stop?
Your Death cover will stop on the earliest of the following:
- anniversary of the cover start date immediately prior to your 70th birthday;
- your death;
- payment of the death benefit in full;
- payment of a TPD benefit that reduces the death benefit to nil;
- cancellation of the cover upon your written request;
- 30 days after you have left Macquarie Superannuation;
- you becoming ineligible for membership of Macquarie Superannuation under law;
- cancellation of the cover by Macquarie Life due to non-payment of the premium when due;
- the date you cease to be a permanent resident of Australia.

Total & Permanent Disablement (TPD) cover
Also paid as a lump sum, this cover allows you to ensure that you and your family have the financial resources to make any necessary lifestyle changes associated with becoming totally and permanently disabled. As an example, you may also choose to use the proceeds to clear debts and cover medical expenses.

Who can apply?
As a member of Macquarie Superannuation, you can apply for TPD cover between the ages of 16 and 64, and it can continue, generally, up until the anniversary of the cover start date immediately prior to your 70th birthday. Applications are made on your behalf by MIML. Applications for cover (and any increases in cover) are subject to acceptance by Macquarie Life.

You must be working a minimum of 20 hours per week in either a permanent part-time or full-time occupation to be assessed against part (a) of the TPD definition. (The full definitions for TPD are explained on page 3.) This cover may be unavailable to members with certain occupations. Your adviser can tell you whether you are eligible to apply based on your occupation.

If you are a non-income earning spouse, you can apply for TPD cover but the maximum amount of cover will be restricted to $500,000 and you will be assessed against a home duties definition, rather than the usual TPD definition (both the home duties and usual TPD definitions are explained on page 3).

What amount is payable?
With TPD cover you apply for an amount of insurance that will be paid in addition to the accumulated balance of your Macquarie Superannuation account. You can apply to increase your cover at any time by completing an application form and providing any additional information requested by Macquarie Life. You can decrease your level of cover at any time by notifying MIML (or Macquarie Life on behalf of MIML) in writing.

Protection against inflation
To minimise the effects of inflation on the value of your cover, we will automatically increase your insured benefit amount each year to age 70 on your cover anniversary in line with increases in the Consumer Price Index (CPI), subject to a maximum of 10% each year. If you do not want to receive this automatic increase you should write to us prior to your cover anniversary.
What are the options?

You can also structure your TPD cover in two ways:

Attached to your Death cover

When attached to Death cover, any benefit paid for TPD will reduce your Death cover by the amount paid for TPD. This means that the amount of TPD cover cannot exceed the amount of Death cover.

As separate cover

When taken as separate cover, your TPD cover is not linked to any other cover you hold with Macquarie Life.

When will we pay?

We will pay the insured benefit amount to MIML if the definition of TPD which applies to you has been satisfied while you are covered for TPD under the policy. MIML will then be able to distribute the proceeds along with your account balance subject to the rules of Macquarie Superannuation and superannuation laws. The rules of Macquarie Superannuation may contain conditions which need to be satisfied for the proceeds of your claim to be distributed.

Definitions of TPD

We will consider you to be totally and permanently disabled:

a) If you have been absent from work through injury or illness for a continuous period of at least 6 months and, to the satisfaction of Macquarie Life, are incapacitated to the extent that you are unlikely ever to be able to engage in any occupation, business or employment for which you are suited by education, training or experience.

Or

b) If you have suffered the total and irreversible loss of:
   - the use of two limbs;
   - the sight in both eyes;
   - the use of one limb and the sight in one eye.

Where limb means an entire hand or an entire foot.

Or

c) If you are totally and continuously unable, and unlikely ever again to be able, to perform at least two of the following activities of daily living:
   - bathing;
   - dressing;
   - eating and drinking;
   - using a toilet to maintain personal hygiene; or
   - mobility.

If you are over age 65, only part (c) of the above definition applies.

Home duties TPD definition

If you were engaged in full-time domestic duties at the time of disability, we will consider you to be totally and permanently disabled:

- If you have been unable to perform domestic duties through injury or illness for a continuous period of at least 6 months and, to the satisfaction of Macquarie Life, are incapacitated to the extent that you are unlikely ever to be able to engage in domestic duties or any occupation, business or employment for which you are suited by education, training or experience.

Domestic duties are defined as the tasks performed by a person whose sole occupation is to maintain their family home. These tasks include unassisted, by another person, cleaning of the home, cooking of meals for their family, doing the family laundry, shopping for their family’s food and taking care of dependent children (where applicable). Domestic duties do not include duties performed outside your home for salary, reward or profit.

When won’t we pay?

We will not pay a benefit if your TPD was caused directly or indirectly by an intentional self-inflicted act at any time after the date cover starts.

Macquarie Life may, when lawfully entitled to do so, avoid or adjust your benefit if you have breached your duty of disclosure or have made a misrepresentation when applying for cover or an increase in cover.

When does the cover start?

Your TPD cover starts from the cover start date shown in the certificate of insurance issued as confirmation that your cover has been accepted by Macquarie Life. If TPD cover is being taken as an attachment to your Death cover, your TPD cover cannot start until your application for Death cover has also been accepted by Macquarie Life.

When does the cover stop?

Your TPD cover will stop on the earliest of the following:

- anniversary of the cover start date immediately prior to your 70th birthday;
- your death;
- payment of the TPD benefit in full;
- payment of the death benefit in full;
- cancellation of the cover upon your written request;
- 30 days after you have left Macquarie Superannuation;
- you becoming ineligible for membership of Macquarie Superannuation under law;
- cancellation of the cover by Macquarie Life Limited due to non-payment of the premium when due;
- the date you cease to be a permanent resident of Australia.
Income Protection cover

Most people think that it’s only the major events such as death or TPD that are likely to have significant financial implications for them or their family. But think about how you would cope if you lost your ability to earn an income even for a short period of time. Could you afford to maintain your current lifestyle, pay the bills, cover medical expenses and continue with your long-term savings objectives?

If you would struggle to make ends meet without your income, then Income Protection could be a simple solution for you.

Who can apply?

As a member of Macquarie Superannuation, you can apply for Income Protection cover between the ages of 16 and 54, and it can continue, generally, up until the anniversary of the cover start date prior to your 65th birthday. Applications are made on your behalf by MIML. Applications for cover (and any increases in cover) are subject to acceptance by Macquarie Life.

You must be working a minimum of 20 hours per week in either a permanent part-time or full-time occupation. This cover may be unavailable to members with certain occupations. Your adviser can tell you whether you are eligible to apply based on your occupation. A non-income earning spouse cannot apply for Income Protection cover.

What are the options?

There are three decisions to make when considering Income Protection:

- how long you are prepared to wait if you become totally disabled, before you qualify for a disability benefit – this is known as the waiting period and can be either 30 or 90 days;
- the maximum period you would like the disability benefit to be paid for – this is known as the benefit period and can be either 2 years or 5 years; and
- the amount that you want to be covered for, known as the insured monthly benefit amount.

Protection against inflation

To minimise the effects of inflation on the value of your cover, we will automatically increase your insured monthly benefit amount each year on your cover anniversary in line with increases in the Consumer Price Index (CPI), subject to a maximum of 10% each year. If you do not want to receive this automatic increase you should write to us prior to your cover anniversary.

For Income Protection cover the maximum monthly benefit is limited to 75% of your pre-disability income, so the automatic increases explained above should be declined if your salary or income does not increase by an amount at least equal to CPI.

When will we pay?

Totally disabled

If you become totally disabled while covered for Income Protection cover, we will pay a monthly benefit after you have been totally disabled for longer than the waiting period. The monthly benefit will be paid one month after the waiting period has been satisfied and will continue to be paid each month in arrears until the earliest of:

- you are able to return to work;
- the end of the benefit period; or
- when the cover stops.

The monthly benefit is the lesser of:

- the insured monthly benefit amount; and
- a monthly payment equal to 75% of your pre-disability income.

We will consider you to be totally disabled if, because of injury or illness you are:

- unable to perform one or more of the important income producing duties of your usual occupation;
- not working; and
- under the regular care and following the advice of a medical practitioner.

An important income producing duty is one that generates at least 20% of your monthly income or equates to at least 20% of your overall duties.

Partially disabled

If you are capable of returning to work in a reduced capacity you may be eligible for a partial disability benefit. A partial disability benefit is calculated as follows:

\text{Monthly benefit} = \frac{\text{(pre-disability income minus post-disability income)}}{\text{pre-disability income}}

We will consider you to be partially disabled if, because of injury or illness and while covered for Income Protection cover, you:

- have been totally disabled for at least 14 out of the first 19 consecutive days of the waiting period;
- are unable to perform one or more of the important income producing duties of your usual occupation, but you are working in your usual occupation, or a gainful occupation;
- are under the regular care and following the advice of a medical practitioner; and
- are receiving a post-disability income which is less than your pre-disability income.
Can the amount we pay you change?
The monthly benefit that we pay you may be reduced by other regular payments you receive or are eligible to receive:
- by way of workers compensation;
- by way of social security or other statutory or government payments;
- under any statutory accident compensation scheme;
- as income benefits under sick leave or any other disability, injury or illness insurance policy, excluding lump sum TPD or Trauma benefit payments.
If a lump sum (other than lump sum TPD or Trauma benefit payments) is received from any of the above sources, we will convert that lump sum to a monthly payment at the rate of 1% of the lump sum being paid per month. The monthly benefit we will pay will be reduced to ensure that, when combined with the income from other sources, it does not exceed 75% of pre-disability income (100% for partial disability).

Claims indexation
When you are receiving a monthly benefit we will automatically increase your pre-disability income and insured monthly benefit amount on each 12 month anniversary of your claim in line with increases in the Consumer Price Index (CPI), subject to a maximum of 7.5%.

Premiums whilst on claim
You do not have to pay your premium when you are receiving a monthly benefit. We will start deducting premiums again when you are able to return to work or after a claim has been paid for the duration of the benefit period.

Rehabilitation expenses benefit
If you have been totally disabled or partially disabled for longer than the waiting period, and eligible to claim, then under this benefit we may pay part or all of the costs associated with a rehabilitation programme approved by us. We may reimburse up to a maximum of six times the insured monthly benefit amount.

Return to work benefit
You can return to work at full capacity during the waiting period for up to 7 days in total before we will restart the waiting period. The waiting period will simply be extended by the number of days you have worked, ensuring that you are not penalised for trying to return to work. If you return to work at full capacity during the waiting period for more than 7 days in total, we will restart the waiting period.

Recurrent disability
If you return to work after payment of an Income Protection cover claim but within 6 months find yourself totally disabled or partially disabled again, from the same or a related injury or illness, the normal waiting period will be waived. This recurrence of disability will be treated as a continuation of the earlier claim and of the earlier benefit period.

Cover whilst unemployed
As long as you continue to pay the premiums when due, you can keep your cover for up to 12 months if you become unemployed (other than because of total disability) or you take unpaid, parental or sabbatical leave.

When won’t we pay?
We will not pay a benefit for your total or partial disability caused directly or indirectly by:
- an intentional self-inflicted act;
- normal or uncomplicated pregnancy or childbirth;
- war or an act of war; or
- any criminal activity.
Benefits are only payable for a period of up to 3 months whilst you are outside Australia. Upon return to Australia, benefits can continue if you continue to satisfy the requirements of being totally disabled or partially disabled.
We will not pay a benefit for your total or partial disability during any period that you are in jail.
Macquarie Life may, when lawfully entitled to do so, avoid or adjust your benefit if you have breached your duty of disclosure or have made a misrepresentation when applying for cover or an increase in cover.

When does the cover start?
Your Income Protection cover starts from the cover start date shown in the certificate of insurance issued as confirmation that your cover has been accepted by Macquarie Life.

When does the cover stop?
Your Income Protection cover will stop on the earliest of the following:
- anniversary of the cover start date immediately prior to your 65th birthday;
- your death;
- cancellation of the cover upon your written request;
- 30 days after you have left Macquarie Superannuation;
- you becoming ineligible for membership of Macquarie Superannuation under law;
- cancellation of the cover by Macquarie Life Limited due to non-payment of the premium when due;
- the date you cease to be a permanent resident of Australia;
- you being unemployed for longer than 12 months.
You must advise us in writing if you are unemployed for longer than 12 months.
How much does it cost?

The premium that you pay for your insurance is calculated using a combination of factors including:

- the type of cover you require;
- the level of cover you require;
- your age;
- your gender;
- whether or not you smoke;
- your occupation.

In some cases your premium may be increased due to your current state of health, occupation, or hazardous pursuits or pastimes.

The premium for your insurance will be deducted in advance from your Macquarie Superannuation portfolio. Deductions will be made from the cash component of your Macquarie Super Manager or Super Accumulator account. Premium deductions from Macquarie SuperOptions are made from the investment option with the highest value. You can choose to pay your premium either once a year or monthly, however, if you pay monthly you will be charged an additional 8%.

Can the premium change?

The premium will change:

- each year on the anniversary of the cover start date and the premium generally increases as your age increases;
- if the cover amount is varied, either at your request or because of automatic increases;
- if Macquarie Life reviews the premium rates.

Macquarie Life can change the premium rates and discount factors, but only if we change them for all equivalent covers on a simultaneous and consistent basis. Macquarie Life will give you at least 60 days prior written notice if there is to be an increase in the premium rates. There may be Stamp Duty, tax, excise, or other government charges related to this cover and its benefits, in addition to the premium. We reserve the right to increase the premiums to cover any increase in these charges or recoup these charges.

What happens if premiums are not paid?

If a premium payment is missed due to insufficient funds in your Superannuation account, Macquarie Life will send a notice to you advising the date on which the cover will end if the premium due is not paid. If you do not make a contribution sufficient to meet the premium due by that date, Macquarie Life will cancel the cover.

Macquarie Life will give you at least 20 business days written notice before the cover is cancelled because of non-payment of premiums.

What will your adviser receive?

What about tax?

Tax treatment of premiums

The premiums for your cover are deducted from the investment balance in your superannuation account. Your investment balance is made up of contributions which you or others have made to super on your behalf, eligible termination payments which have been rolled into your account and investment earnings. Some of these amounts may be subject to tax in the fund and in certain circumstances contributions may attract a tax deduction, rebate or a government co-contribution. The tax rules that apply to superannuation contributions and rollovers can be complex. Please refer to the PDS for your Macquarie Superannuation fund or consult your tax adviser.

Macquarie Superannuation will claim a tax deduction for the expense of the insurance premiums paid for your cover. The tax effect of any deductible expense will be credited to your account. For Death and TPD cover, the whole of the premium is an allowable deduction for the fund. For Income Protection cover, only that part of the premium which relates to the first 2 years of the benefit is tax deductible. You should consult your tax adviser as to the tax effectiveness of life insurance purchased through superannuation.
Tax treatment of benefits

Because the insurance cover is offered to you through Macquarie Superannuation, if an insurance benefit is payable it is paid to you from the fund as a superannuation benefit. Special tax treatment applies to death and TPD benefits that are paid from a superannuation fund.

If a benefit becomes payable Macquarie Life pays the insurance proceeds to MIML, who in turn will be able to pay the benefit in accordance with the rules of Macquarie Superannuation and superannuation laws after allowance for any fund tax liability.

A lump sum benefit received in the event of death is generally tax free when the benefit is paid to one or more of your tax dependants (either directly or via your estate) and your relevant “reasonable benefit limit” has not been exceeded. For tax purposes a dependant includes a spouse (married or de facto), a child under the age of 18 years (including adopted children and step-children), an interdependent person or a person financially dependent on you. In other circumstances, part or all of the death benefit will not be tax free. The level of tax applicable will depend on a number of factors.

The taxation of a lump sum benefit received in the event of TPD is broadly similar to the tax treatment of retirement benefits except that in some cases, additional tax concessions may apply. If an income protection benefit becomes payable to MIML by Macquarie Life, the monthly benefit that is paid to you from Macquarie Superannuation will be subject to PAYG tax.

The tax information contained in this PDS is based upon our understanding of the tax laws that were current on 24th October 2005. These laws can change so you should consult your tax adviser to discuss the tax effects of Death, TPD or Income Protection cover as part of your superannuation arrangements.

For further information about the rules applying to the payment of benefits in Macquarie Superannuation, please refer to the PDS for that fund.

How to apply

To apply for cover all you need to do is complete an application form and personal statement. Your application can be made using the form attached to this PDS or via our e-Assessment electronic application. Please ask your adviser whether they have access to our e-Assessment service.

Your duty of disclosure

MIML will be entering into a contract of life insurance with the insurer, Macquarie Life, on your behalf. Before doing so, you have a duty, under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984, to disclose to the insurer every matter you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that is relevant to the insurer’s decision whether to accept the risk of the insurance and, if so, on what terms.

You have the same duty to disclose those matters to the insurer before your cover is extended, varied or reinstated.

Your duty, however, does not require disclosure of a matter:

■ that diminishes the risk to be undertaken by the insurer;
■ that is of common knowledge;
■ that your insurer knows or, in the ordinary course of its business, ought to know;
■ as to which compliance with your duty is waived by the insurer.

Non-disclosure

If you fail to comply with your duty of disclosure and the insurer would not have entered into the contract on any terms if the failure had not occurred, the insurer may avoid the contract within 3 years of entering into it. If your non-disclosure is fraudulent, the insurer may avoid the contract at any time.

An insurer who is entitled to avoid a contract of life insurance may, within 3 years of entering into it, elect not to avoid it but reduce the amount that you have been insured for in accordance with a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had disclosed all relevant matters to the insurer.

Information about privacy

Your privacy is important to Macquarie Life. This statement explains how your personal information can be used or disclosed and provides information about your privacy rights. By completing the application form attached you agree to allow Macquarie Life to use your personal information to:

■ assess and process your application for insurance;
■ communicate with you about your application and any cover Macquarie Life supplies to you;
■ monitor, audit, evaluate and otherwise administer any cover that you hold with Macquarie Life; and
■ assess, process and investigate any claims made under any cover.

Unless you notify Macquarie Life or MIML otherwise, your personal information may be used to offer similar products or services which may be of interest to you.

If you do not supply Macquarie Life with the personal information requested, Macquarie Life may not be able to provide cover to you.

Health information

Macquarie Life requires information about your health to assess your application for insurance cover. The references in this Privacy Statement to personal information include sensitive information such as medical and health related details. If required to administer your cover or process any claims Macquarie Life may seek further information from any doctor personally consulted by you at any time before making an application, or at any time during your application for insurance cover or during the term of any insurance cover granted by Macquarie Life.
Disclosure of personal information

You also agree that Macquarie Life may provide access to other Macquarie group companies or our external service providers, who provide services in connection with Macquarie products and services, including a reinsurer or suppliers of administrative services (for example, mailing houses and claims investigators).

Macquarie Life may also disclose your personal information:
- if acting in good faith, we believe that the law requires or permits us to do so; or
- if you consent; or
- to any party proposing to acquire an interest in our business.

Your rights and responsibilities

If you do not supply all of the personal information requested, Macquarie Life may not be able to provide you with the cover for which you apply. You also have legal obligations of disclosure (explained above) under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984.

Under the Privacy Act 1988, you may request access to your personal information held by Macquarie Life or MIML. You can contact us to make such a request or for any other reason relating to the privacy of your personal information by telephoning us on:

Macquarie’s privacy statement and details on how you may access your personal information can also be found at www.macquarie.com.au

What if I change my mind?

If you decide that your insurance cover does not suit your needs, you have a 14-day “Cooling-off Period” during which you can cancel your cover in writing and any premiums paid will be reinvested in accordance with the portfolio allocation at the time the premiums were deducted. The 14-day “Cooling-off Period” starts from the date you receive your insurance certificate confirming that your cover has started.

Interim cover

Death and TPD cover

Macquarie Life will provide interim death by accident cover and accidental total & permanent disablement cover for a period of up to 90 days from the date Macquarie Life receives your application for Death & TPD cover. The interim cover amount is the amount of cover applied for, to a maximum of $500,000.

For death by accident, the interim cover benefits are payable only if both the accident causing death and death by accident occur during the period of cover. For accidental total & permanent disablement, the interim benefits are payable only if the accident causing total & permanent disablement occurs during the period of cover.

However, benefits are not payable if the event giving rise to the claim was directly or indirectly caused by an intentional self-inflicted act, by an alcohol or drug related incident, engaging in an occupation, sport or pastime that would not be covered under the policy, or an accident that occurred prior to the application being signed. A benefit will not be paid for death in the event of suicide.

Income Protection cover

Macquarie Life will provide interim accident cover for total disability from accidental injury for a period of up to 90 days from the date Macquarie Life receives your application for Income Protection cover.

The interim cover amount is the amount of cover applied for, up to a maximum of $5,000 per month. The waiting period you nominated in your application applies and benefits are payable until the earlier of your return to work or 6 months. Benefits are payable only if the disability was caused by an accidental injury occurring during the period the cover is applicable. However, benefits are not payable if the disability is caused by an event which would be excluded (please refer to the section When won’t we pay at page 5) or is directly or indirectly caused by your engaging in an occupation, sport or pastime that would not be covered under the policy, or an accident that occurred prior to the application being signed. Benefits are not payable as a result of death.

Cessation

Interim cover ceases on the earlier of Macquarie Life’s acceptance or rejection of your application for cover, your withdrawal of the application or the date Macquarie Life advises you that the interim cover is cancelled. Macquarie Life’s standard exclusions apply. When lawfully entitled to do so, Macquarie Life may avoid or adjust your interim benefit if you have breached your duty of disclosure or have made a misrepresentation when applying for cover.
Worldwide cover
Macquarie Life provides cover 24 hours a day anywhere in the world, subject to the conditions of the cover.

Continuation of cover
If you choose to leave Macquarie Superannuation but would like to retain your valuable insurance cover, Macquarie Life may agree to transfer your cover to a stand-alone personal policy. This option is not guaranteed and is subject to the availability of an equivalent stand-alone product and normal assessment criteria being met.

Transferring from another insurer
If you already have insurance cover with another insurer, you can apply to transfer your existing cover to Macquarie without going through the entire application and underwriting process.

To do this you need to:
■ Complete a declaration of continued good health.
■ Complete section B and C of the application form.
These should be sent to us together with:
■ A copy of your original acceptance and cover schedule/certificate.
■ Proof of the existence of the current cover.
■ A copy of your most recent renewal notice.

There are a few conditions under which we will offer you replacement cover:
■ if you are applying for TPD or income protection, you must be under age 55 at your next birthday;
■ if you are applying for life cover, you must be under age 60 at your next birthday;
■ your existing insurance cover must have been accepted at standard rates or with a medical loading of less than 50% and without any medical exclusions;
■ your existing insurance cover must have been first underwritten less than five (5) years ago;
■ the cover being issued by Macquarie will be limited to the same amount of cover as the existing cover being transferred.

The following maximum benefit amounts apply for transfer terms:
■ Death = $3 million.
■ TPD = $2 million.
■ Income Protection = $10,000 per month.

Your Macquarie Super Protector cover will not start until the existing cover is cancelled. You should not cancel your existing cover until acceptance is confirmed by Macquarie Life.

Making a claim
Macquarie Life will pay a benefit under the cover only after admission of liability. To assess the claim, Macquarie Life will require the following, in a form that is satisfactory to us:
■ a properly completed claim form;
■ the Certificate of Insurance;
■ proof of age (unless previously provided);
■ if the death benefit is being claimed, a Death Certificate;
■ if a TPD benefit is being claimed, then proof of your total and permanent disability;
■ if an Income Protection benefit is being claimed, additional medical and financial information will be required to support ongoing benefit payments.

Accidental injury means injury caused directly or independently of any other cause from an unforeseen and unintended accident caused by violent, external and visible means.

Consumer Price Index is the weighted average of the eight Australian capital cities combined, published by the Australian Bureau of Statistics or any body which succeeds it, in respect of the 12 month period finishing on or prior to 30th September. It will be determined at 31st December each year and applied from 1st March in the following year.

Death by accident means death directly and independently of any other cause from an unforeseen and unintended accident caused by violent, external and visible means.

Illness means a sickness or disease which becomes apparent after the latter of:
- the cover start date; or
- the date we increased the benefit amount (other than for a CPI increase) but only in respect of that increase; or
- the date your cover was reinstated,
but before the cover ends, unless that illness was fully disclosed to Macquarie Life at the time of application and Macquarie Life agreed to cover it.

Injury means physical damage caused solely and directly by an accident which occurs on or after the latter of:
- the cover start date; or
- the date we increased the benefit amount (other than for a CPI increase) but only in respect of that increase; or
- the date your cover was reinstated,
but before the cover ends, unless that injury was fully disclosed to Macquarie Life at the time of application and Macquarie Life agreed to cover it.

Insurable income means the income earned through personal exertion calculated:
- after the deduction of expenses incurred in producing that income; and
- before the deduction of income tax.

It is based on the total remuneration package and includes salary, wages, packaged fringe benefits, regular commissions, bonuses, overtime payments and superannuation.

For the self-employed it also includes that share of net income the business directly generated by your personal exertion after deductions of all business expenses but before the deduction of tax.

Insurable income does not include:
- income that you would continue to receive from your business even if you are unable to work, including any ongoing profit generated by other employees of the business; or
- other unearned income such as dividends, interest, rental income.

Insured monthly benefit amount means the monthly amount Macquarie Life has agreed to insure you for the policy.

Medical practitioner means a doctor who is legally qualified and properly registered other than you or a member of your immediate family. If practising outside of Australia, the doctor must have qualifications equivalent to Australian standards.

Pre-disability income means the average monthly insurable income earned by you during the 12 months immediately prior to the commencement of your total disability.

Post-disability income means the average monthly insurable income earned by you during a period of partial disability.

Underwriting

Macquarie Life will promptly advise you and your adviser upon assessment of your application of any additional information needed to underwrite your application. The information about underwriting below is provided as a guide only and relates to the common medical and financial underwriting requirements for cover. We may also seek additional information about any hazardous pursuits or pastimes, duties of your occupation or other information that may assist with the assessment of your application.

Macquarie Life may ask you to complete a medical examination with your doctor – Macquarie Life covers the costs associated with that and any tests you require. The tests and requirements vary depending on your age, occupation and the amount you have applied to be insured for; the table below provides an overview. The blood tests referred to are tests for Hepatitis B and C, Multiple Biochemical Analysis (MBA) and HIV.

Your adviser is your main point of contact for your insurance so if you have any questions about your Macquarie Super Protector cover please talk to your adviser. In most circumstances, upon your request, we can send medical examination and blood test results to a doctor nominated by you in writing.
